- a Waiting Period that is more than zero but less than 30 days will be adjusted to 30 days
- cover that has a Benefit Period of more than 2 years but less than 5 years will be adjusted to 2 years
- cover that has a Benefit Period of more than 5 years but less than to age 65 will be adjusted to 5 years

The insurance cover in the Plan is provided by TAL Life Limited ABN 70 050 109 450 AFSL 237848 (TAL), and the transfer of any existing insurance is subject to acceptance by TAL. The transferred cover in the Plan will commence on the later of:

- a) The date TAL accepts in writing this application to transfer the existing insurance; and
- b) The date your existing insurance is cancelled under the Previous Policy.

General Risks of replacing cover

If you are replacing existing insurance cover that you hold elsewhere, please consider:

- that you should not cancel any existing cover until your new application is accepted
- the general risks of replacing existing cover, including the loss of any accrued benefits, the possibility of waiting periods to start again (if applicable), and the implications of any nondisclosure on an application for cover (even where unintentional)
- that once your new cover is accepted, if you do not cancel your previous cover, you may be unable to claim on multiple insurance covers (depending on the terms of your policies)

Duty of Disclosure

Your duty of disclosure to the trustee, Sandhurst Trustees Limited ABN 16 004 030 737 AFSL 237906 (Sandhurst), and the insurer, TAL Life Limited ABN 70 050 109 460 AFSL 237848 (TAL), is set out below.

Before you enter into a life insurance contract, you have a duty to tell the insurer anything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, that may affect their decision to insure you and on what terms.

You have this duty until the insurer agrees to insure you.

You have the same duty before you extend, vary or reinstate the contract.

You do not need to tell the insurer anything that:

- reduces the risk they insure you for; or
- is common knowledge; or
- they know or should know as an insurer; or
- they waive your duty to tell them about.

If you do not tell the insurer something

If the insurance is for the life of another person and that person does not tell the insurer everything they should have, this may be treated as a failure by you to tell us something that you must tell us.

In exercising the following rights, the insurer may consider whether different types of cover can constitute separate contracts of life insurance. If they do, they may apply the following rights separately to each type of cover.

If you do not tell the insurer anything you are required to, and they would not have insured you if you had told them, they may avoid the contract within 3 years of entering into it.

If the insurer chooses not to avoid the contract, they may, at any time, reduce the amount you have been insured for. This would be worked out using a formula that takes into account the premium that would have been payable if you had told them everything you should have.

However, if the contract has a surrender value, or provides cover on death, the insurer may only exercise this right within 3 years of entering into the contract.

If the insurer chooses not to avoid the contract or reduce the amount you have been insured for, they may, at any time, vary the contract in a way that places them in the same position they would have been in if you had told them everything you should have. However, this right does not apply if the contract has a surrender value or provides cover on death.

If your failure to tell the insurer is fraudulent, they may refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed.

Do not cancel any existing insurance you have under your Previous Policy until you have received written confirmation from TAL that your transfer has been accepted.
